THE SAME OLD GAME.

Isaac Baker, of West Virginia, Buncoed at the Union Station.

Yesterday Isaac Baker, who hails from West Virginia, stopped at the Union Station to make connections for Carthage, Ill. He arrived in the city early in the morning, and as his train did not leave until 11:15 o'clock last night he wandered through the station making acquaintances. He met one, a stranger, who gave his name as Mr. Mason, and who said that he also was going to Carthage. The two sauntered out and met a third party, who claimed to be a friend of Mr. Mason. The pleadings of insufficient money to pay a freight bill induced Mr. Baker to loan Mr. Mason the entire contents of his wallet, amounting to $52. It was the same old game. Baker was eluded, and he returned to the Union Station and made known his loss. The sharpers could not be located. Baker remained in the station the remainder of the day, on account of being afraid of running up against another skin game. The conductor and brakeman of the early west-bound Peorla & Eastern train noticed two men acting very friendly with two passengers not accustomed to city ways. The trainmen watched every action of the men so closely that the two soon departed. It is supposed that the two were the ones that afterwards relieved Eaker of his money. TO BUILD A SKY SCRAPER.

A Syndicate Secures an Option on Washington-Street Property.

An option has been given a syndicate of New York and Chicago capitalists on the Stechhan property at Washington and Alabama streets, for which property $62,500 is to be paid if the sale is made. The syndicate is known as the Enterprise Improvement Association, and is represented by M. S. Evinger, J. H. Barabee and Messrs. Howard and Wisely. Mr. Evinger says the deal will be closed next week, and a twelve-story office block erected this spring to cost $250,000. It will be of red pressed brick with stone trimming, 140 feet on Alabama and sixty feet on Washington. Steel is to be used extensively, and four elevators are to be placed in the building. He says his syndicate has secured property in Terre Haute and Fort Wayne for building Uniformity in Assessing. The State Tax Commission was in session yesterday afternoon arranging a programme for the meeting of county assessors here next Wednesday and Thursday. The commissioners are to meet with the assessors, and yesterday's session was to prepare in advance an outline of what the former thought should be done with regard to securing uniformity in assessing various sorts of property for taxation. The matter is a most important one, and the meeting next week will be largely attended.

Food Market Necessary to Relieve the Great Need That Exists.

Finance Committee Holds a Meeting-The Unemployed Gather and Listen to Songs and Speeches.

The finance committee of the relief committee of the Commercial Club met yesterday in the club assembly rooms to discuss the question of continuing the food merket. Chairman Hanna explained that the continuance of the market was a necessity if the question of preventing hundreds of families from starving was to be considered. The unworthy ones had been weeded out by the work test and on last week's books the 1,054 names represented 4,500 needy people. There had been over six hundred names dropped from the rolls by this work test. The rations have been cut down. Coffee, sugar and fresh meats are no longer included. The cost of a ration is estimated at 72 cents. It is estimated that the cost of keeping the relief work, including the Flower Mission and the Charity Organization Socleav, is between $1,000 and $1,200 a week. The committee thinks that all bills accrued by the first of next week can be met. The soliciting committee, which has been at work canvassing within the last week, has met but fair success. The committee is fully awake to the direful results that will come in case the market is closed, and it is the members' intention to make every effort to secure funds to continue the work. This afternoon another meeting will be held to discuss the question in general. The meeting is open to all persons interested in rellef work.

The canvassing committees have received the following subscriptions during the past R. N. Hill, $5; J. W. Claypool, $5; Adolph Kahn & Co., $5; cash, $1; A. C. Harris, $25; Geo. HAD A VARIED PROGRAMME. Unemployed Meet and Pass Satirical Resolutions.

The Inland Quartet, a company of colored young men, opened the meeting of the unemployed last night. The quartet sang "Good-bye, Old Party, Good-bye," and "Marching on to Victory." The meeting was well attended and several ladies were present. Cummings presided, and suggested that hereafter when people believe they have been overcharged by the gas companies they should tender the regular rate, and in case the gas is cut off the sufferer has the asurance that he has a remedy in the law. D. F. Kennedy believed that thousands of dollars have been unlawfully collected by the gas trust, and he is of the opinion that much of this money can be recovered through the proper channels.

It was decided to hold a mass meeting and invite all Indianapolis citizens interested in the gas question to be present. The next meeting of the unemployed will be devoted to the discussion of this mat-ter. The question of the employment of foreign labor on the new Kentucky-avenue bridge was brought up, and the chairman appointed William Brand at the head of a committee to investigate the alleged abuse. A man appointed at the last meeting to investigate an agravated case of eviction at No. 327 Columbia avenue stated that the family had been badly abused. A committee was named with instructions to further investigate the conduct of one of the constables, and if the charges were proven true to at once begin a vigorous prosecution against the offenders. Cuthbert Vincent addressed the meeting on the financial situation and the causes of the stagnant condition of business. He attributed the depression to the gathering power of money through interest. He thought that the custom of taking of interest for money was unlawful, and compared the money-loaning interests of to-day to the usury of ancient times. John Groff, an indignant German, residing on Ramsey avenue, announced that he had been instructed by a postal card from the Board of Public Works to report at the city stone yard, where he would secure employment. He did as directed by the street commissioner, and was refused work, he says. An examination of the card received by Groff disclosed the fact that his instructions were to report on "March 3, 1895." There was objection to the appointment of a committee to call on the Board of Public Works. The meeting was in favor of every man and his neighbor marching to the board's office and making a perempt-ory demand that street improvements be commenced immediately. The board will be visited this morning and the request

It was also decided that the delegation meet at the courthouse at 6:40 o'clock this morning, and before visiting the Board of Public Works go to the Commercial Club and secure the additional service of the force of men which congregates at the food market each morning. The meeting, before its adjournment, diverged into a vein of grim humor. W. P. Smith desired to contribute a set of resolu tions providing for the relief of the Indianapolis working men through the crowned heads of Europe. Mr. Smith apologized for our forefathers because they were indiscreet enough to sign the Declaration of Independence, and humbly petitioned the Queen of England to speedily grant the Congress of the United States and his Excellency, Grover Cleveland, the privilege of enacting such laws as in their judgment seem good for the people of Indianapolis. Mr. Smith's satire was received vociferously. Chairman Cumings read before the meeting a lengthy paper containing a resume of the winter's relief work and a statement of the attitude of the city administration toward the unemployed. The document was presented as a resolution, and was adopted. C. A. Johnson introduced a resolution requesting the Commercial Club to make a statement to the public as to when and how it derived its power to govern the city. Mr. Johnson's resolution insinuated that the club is in the habit of assuming functions of a dictatorial character.

DIDN'T SEE THE TRAIN.

Mrs. Nannie Sutherland Seriously Injured on Kentucky Avenue.

Mrs. Nannie Sutherland, who owns a millivery store at No. 299 South Missouri street, was struck by the west-bound Peoria & Eastern passenger train No. 3, at Kentucky avenue, yesterday afternoon, shortly before 5 o'clock, and badly injured. She was returning from a call on her husband, a tailor employed at No. 541/2 South Illinois street, and was walking along in an abstracted mood. Arriving at the tracks, she did not see the approaching train, but started to cross the tracks with the train but a few feet away. The flagman at this point stated that he attempted to warn her of the approach of the train, but without effect. She was hurled to one side, and was picked up unconscious. The city ambulance arrived, but Mrs. Sutherland's condition was such that she could not be removed for some time.

At the City Dispensary her wounds were found to consist of a number of bruises about the head and slight internal injuries. It is thought that she sustained a fracture of the skull. She was removed to her home on South Missouri street last night. Dr. J. W. Sluss, of the City Dispensary, is attending her. He was of the opinion late last night that Mrs. Sutherland would re-

Odd Fellows' Anniversary. The Odd Fellows have begun to make extensive preparations for the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship on May 16, that being the date of the semi-annual meeting of the Grand Lodge. W. H. Leedy and C. E. Rubush, of the committee on arrangements, say the demonstration will bring to the city fully 25,000 visitors. They do not propose to ask any aid of the city or citizens, save that they will ask citizens to decorate their houses. They will have a parade with floats.

Heck Didn't Take the Morphine. Yesterday a telegram was received from Louisville signed by Dr. Gayer, of that place, asking the authorities of this city to apprehend John Heck, of Louisville. The reason was that Heck had morphine on his person and it was thought he intended to take it. The telegram stated that Heck intended to stop at the Shepherdson House, on McNabb street, and had left Louisville several days ago. Sergeant Barlow went to the hotel, and found that Heck had stopped over Wednesday night, but had left there yesterday morning. He had not been seen since, though when last seen was apparently in the best of health.

CROOK WITH A STORY

Requisition Issued for Charles Ketcham, a Shrewd Criminal.

Had Interesting Adventures in Missouri -A Kansas City Officer Comes to Arrest Him.

A Missouri officer came here Wednesday and secured requisition papers from Governor Matthews for a very "smooth" criminal who has successfully evaded arrest for three years. The officer is Thomas W. Herson, of Kansas City, a deputy sheriff, and the man he is after is Charles Ketcham. who is supposed to be living at or near Fort Wayne under an assumed name. In 1882 Ketcham stole forty sacks of wheat valued in all at $90, from a Chicago & Alton car at Kanasas City, was arrested and on Dec. 14 of that year convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. After being sentenced and just before he was to be removed to the penitentiary at Jefferson City Ketcham escaped from the Kansas City jail and was never captured. Subsequently, along about 1885, he was arrested under another name in the same State and sent up for five years for swindling. He served his term and it was never discovered until some time after his discharge that he was Ketcham, the man wanted for the wheat stealing years before. Deputy Herson has a complete description of the man, taken while he was serving time under the assumed name. This description is so minute, being made according to the Bertillon system now in general use, that he cannot fail to identify the right man. For three years officers have been chasing Ketcham, and the country has been ransacked for him, but he would always manage to get wind of their coming and elude them. It may be the same this time, but Herson hoped to find his information correct and his man at Fort Wayne. One of Ketcham's little operations netted him several thousand dollars and cost a traveling man a trunkful of diamonds and jewelry. It happened after his release from the Missouri penitentiary in 1890. He met a traveling man on a train and occupying the same seat, the two men became quite sociable and friendly. Ketcham is a man of good education and excellent address, and his companion, of course, suspected nothing of his true character. The convergettion drifted into transless the convergettion drifted into the conve sation drifted into trunks, the cost of excess baggage, lost baggage, etc., and dur-ing the talk the men had their checks out. The traveling man dropped his on the floor of the car and Ketcham picked it up for him. Instead of handing him the right check, however, Ketcham, who had learned, of course, what line he was in, exchanged checks with the traveling man, who, without suspecting anything, put the wrong check in his pocket. When they reached their des-tination they separated, Ketcham going straight to the baggage room and having the jewelry man's trunk, which contained between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry, rechecked to another point, The traveling man gave his check to the transfer man, went to the hotel and discovered the mistake too late to recover his trunk. Ketcham's trunk contained nothing of value. The salesman at first thought it was simply a mistake, but learned upon visiting the baggage room that Ketcham had planned it all out very nicely and suc-cessfully. None of the stolen property was ever recovered nor did the victim ever again lay eyes upon his crooked fellow traveler.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. W. F. Taylor Loses 125 Members of His Congregation.

It Is a Friendly Withdrawal to Organize a Church at the Woodruff Place Station.

The worshipers at the Woodruff Place Station, a branch of the First Baptist Church, of this city, last evening took the preliminary steps towards forming an independent church, and at the prayer meeting of the First Baptist Church last evening they presented the following communication, addressed to the officers and mem-"The work of this church, as carried on at Woodruff Place Station, has wonderfully prospered, God having blessed it greatly.

There are now 125 members who are identifled with that work; also, seven who are approved for baptism. Of this number 103 were received during the past eight months. on recommendations of that body. During the year there has been raised for all purposes $1,993.70; for current expenses, $1,024; for paying off debt on church building, $969.70. The house of worship, which is owned by the Woodruff Place Baptist Church Building Association (an organization of members of that congregation and Sunday school), and which has cost $6,300, has yet an indebtedness of $600. Other than this there is no indebtedness of any kind. Those members of this church that are working in that field, and many of those that are acquainted with the work, have been considering the status of the station and its future possibilities, and as a result of their informal consultations believe that it would now be safe and advisable to organize as a regular Baptist Church. "Accordingly, on Thursday evening, March 1, at a meeting held at the station, eighty-three being present, unanimous opinion being as above, it was resolved that the First Church be requested to consider the matter and make such recommendations as they might determine was best." Following the reading of the communication the members of the First Baptist Church present unanimously voted favorably to such action on the part of the Woodruff Place Station, and authorizing the church clerk of the First Baptist Church to give letters of dismissal from the church to 125 members who are to join the new church. The withdrawal of this number will not weaken, to a great extent, the First Baptist Church, as it has a large

FLIGHTS OF ORATORY

Indiana College Representatives Will Enter a Contest To-Night.

Brief Sketches of the Young Men-Judges Chosen from Abroad-A Young Lady to Speak.

The buoyant college boy, with his deafening yell, will come to town to-day. The grown-up young man, with the weight of his senior year on his shoulders and the envy of the undergraduate, will be here, flying the colors of his college, and expounding the merits of his representative. College men of all grades and fraternities will be in this morning to attend the annual oratorical contest, which is to be held to-night. The exercises will be held at English's Opera House, at 8 o'clock. Frank Martin, H. W. Berger and C. L. Little, officers of the oratorical association, arrived last night, and have completed all arrangements for the contest. There are seven contestants for the honors conferred by the society. R. B. McCain, of Hanover College, has been accorded the first effort. Mr. McCain's subject is "The United States Senate." He has gained some prominence as an orator, having won the Voris fiftydollar prize offered by his college in a recent contest. The young man is in his senior year, is a member of the Beta Theta Psi fraternity, and resides at Bedford. Hanover's colors are scarlet and navy blue. L. F. Dimmitt, who is second on the list, represents DePauw College. He will discuss "The Humane Spirit in Modern Civilization." Mr. Dimmitt is perhaps the oldest of the contestants. He is a married man, and a few years ago occupied one of the West Indianapolis pulpits. He secured second place in the DePauw contest of 1891. DePauw's representative is a Delta Upsilon.

The colors are old gold.
Sylvian Kahn, of the State University, is announced to speak of "The Problem of the Children." Mr. Kahn's home is in Indianapolis, where he graduated from the city high schools. He is nonfraternal and sings second base in the University Glee Club. He is a young man of fine personal appear-Leslie Overstreet, the representative from Franklin, has chosen the subject, "The Power of Personality." He is known to be exceptionally good in delivery. The Phi Delta Thetas claim him as a member.

Franklin's men will be known by colors of gold and blue. Roy White is to struggle for the honors of Earlham with the subject, "The Reign of Justice." Mr. White is a junior, and it is claimed that he will rank high in composition and thought. Earlham College is nonfraternal. Her representative lives in Marion county.

Claud Travis, the youngest of the contestants, is the representative of Wabash College, and resides at Crawfordsville.

"The Hero of the Reformation" is announced as his subject. Mr. Travis is one of the brightest of Wabash men, and in addition to a natural talent for oratory, he is at the head of the athletic movement at Wabash. Mr. Travis is the son of Charles

THE JUDGES SELECTED. An unusual degree of interest is being shown in the contest among college men all over the State. Nearly all of the institutions are prepared to claim the honors for their representative, but it is generally conceded that the man from DePauw has much in his favor. Six judges have been selected to preside to-night. The three gentlemen who will decide the contest as to composition and thought each represent the chair of English literature and rhetoric in their respective institutions. They are as follows: Prof. William P. Trent, University of the South; Prof. John Campbell Lee, Harvard University; Prof. A. S. Hill, Cornell University. The judges on delivery have all been selected from this city. They are the Rev. Dr. Dewhurst, of Plymouth Church; Prof. George W. Hufford, of High School No. 1, and attorney John L. Griffiths

The orator ranked first by four or more judges will be awarded first prize. If no orator is so ranked, the orator the sum of whose grades is least shall be awarded first prize. In case of a tie in ranking, the orator receiving the highest grade average shall be awarded first prize. In case of a final tie, the orator having the highest average grades in delivery shall be awarded the first prize. The second prize will be awarded in the same manner, the grades of the first orator not being counted, and the grades of the remaining orators being ranked as in the former case. Many of the fraternity organizations will have their reunions to-night, and numerous entertainments have been arranged for the "frats." At 6 o'clock this evening the Beta Theta Psi society will dine at the Commer-cial Club. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the State association will meet at the Denison Hotel for the annual election of officers. This session is expected to be productive of much warmth. The present association officers are as follows: President, Elbert Russell, Earlham; vice president, William Miller, State University; corresponding secretary, Charles Baker, Butler; recording secretary, Frank Martin, Franklin; treasurer, C. S. Little, Wabash; interstate delegate, H. W. Berger, Hanover; executive committeeman, Thomas Crowder, The Earnings of Mulligan's Wife. John Muiligan, colored, residing in the rear of No. 310 North West street, was arrested by patrolman Carter yesterday on a charge of drawing deadly weapons. Wednesday Mrs. Mulligan returned home in the evening after working out all day and having earned a dollar. Mulligan demanded the money, and afterwards spent it for drinks. Returning to the house, his wife asked him for the morey, and Mulligan, who was intoxicated, drew an uglylooking knife and chased her out of the house. She immediately swore out a war-rant for his arrest, which was served yesterday.

Still with Judge Gillett.

Governor Matthews says he has not heard from Judge Gillett regarding the status of the Roby investigation. The published reports of the grand jury's disregard of the Judge's instructions he has read, and while not caring to express himself to any extent until he hears directly from Judge Gilett, the Governor says he is with the latter in regarding the visit of the jury to the track as out of place under the circumstances.

Shepley Charged with Arson. C. W. Shepley, who owns a meat shop at No. 153 Columbia avenue, was arrested vesterday morning, charged with setting his property on fire with the intention of defrauding the insurance companies. He denied the charge, but waived examina-tion in the Police Court, and was held for grand jury action.

Drew Maintenance Money. The Reform School for Girls drew $3,540.62 from the State yesterday for February maintenance. The Central Insane Hospital drew $18,878.15 for the same purpose, $1,-295.37 for repairs, $907.80 for clothing and $67.33 for sewer work,

Encyclopædia

Bowen-Merrill offer the only American edition ever set in type and thoroughly Americanized in addition to all the English matter and the only edition up to date (September, 1893).

Bowen-Merrill have made special arrangements with the State Agent for the genuine Maxwell-Sommerville-Stoddard edition of ENCYCLOPŒDIA BRITANNICA. For a limited time, we can furnish patrons the complete set in two elegant bindings at one-half price. The fine red-pebbled cloth, formerly $125 per set, now $62.50, and the half Morocco binding, formerly $175 per set, now only $87.50, on terms of $10 cash and $5 per month. Full set of 25 volumes delivered upon receipt of first payment.

Remember that this is the genuine Britannica, made from the genuine J. M. Stoddard plates, not a cheap pirated photographic edition, like those heralded through the newspapers. The beautifully arranged index volume, accompanying this set makes every minute branch of this great work accessible in a moment's time. The article on Indiana was written by Addison C. Harris, esq. Full sets on exhibition in our windows. Please call and examine. This edition is particularly valuable to ministers, college professors and professional men, renders the great stores of knowledge contained in the Britannica immediately accessible to the moderately learned. This is the only time this work has ever been offered in this way by a bookstore. (Usually sold by agents only.) The above proposition is good for a short time only. This is the only authorized edition of the ENCYCLOPŒDIA BRITANNICA published in America.
